

The map displays trade flows between 14 European countries. The countries are represented by yellow circles with their ISO codes: GB (Great Britain), NO (Norway), SE (Sweden), FI (Finland), RU (Russia), DE (Germany), PL (Poland), FR (France), RO (Romania), IT (Italy), PT (Portugal), ES (Spain), GR (Greece), and TR (Turkey). The background is a grey map of Europe with dashed black lines for national borders. Blue arrows of varying thickness represent trade flows, with thicker arrows indicating higher trade volumes. Most trade is concentrated within the EU, with GB having many incoming and outgoing flows. TR is a major trade partner for several EU countries. A few flows to and from RU are highlighted in red.
